

HAD TO BEACH STEAMER.

Since coming from salt water the steamer Winona owned by the Mac-kays of Hamilton has had a series of mishaps. While coming up the St. Lawrence on her initial trip she grounded and when on her first trip to the Georgian Bay a few weeks ago ran on a shoal near Giant's Tomb, necessitating a sojourn on the Collingwood dry dock of several weeks and a repair bill of upwards of $35,000. On Saturday the steamer again got into trouble, this time on the Jeny shoal, near the Duck Islands, Lake Huron. The steamer was under charter by the C.P.R. and had loaded 3,000 tons of general merchandise at Owen Sound, clearing from that port on Friday evening. All ~~went well~~ until early Saturday morning when the steamer struck. Capt. Dick who was in charge, released his steamer, but upon finding the forward compartment full he beached her. The news of the accident was sent to Providence Bay and later to the owners. Lighters were immediately dispatched and it is expected that the steamer will again come to Collingwood. Should the damage be as serious as that caused in the accident at the Giant's Tomb the steamer will be on the dock until after the close of navigation.

The Winona was built in England and only went into commission in the latter part of the past summer. She is a good type of the imported class of freighters.
